Performance Measure 4: Deeper Learning

In addition to annually demonstrating growth and performance on state assessments, CAST Med students will develop across four Deeper Learning competencies that will be assessed through campus-based assessments.

Competency	Metric
Master core content	All students will create, maintain and refine digital portfolios by the end of their sophomore year, adding college essays and resumes by the end of their junior year, and pathway-specific curated pieces by the end of their senior year.
Work collaboratively	All students will use tools and opportunities that enable them to communicate clearly, effectively, and persuasively across all grades and subjects, as measured by campus-based records showing that students have an opportunity to exhibit and/or present to an external audience at least once per semester, and have completed at least two formal presentations on issues of local relevance by the conclusion of their senior year. All students will participate in at least one student-led conference annually.
Learn how to learn	Teachers will facilitate learning experiences that enable all students to become self-directed learners who set their own goals, track their progress, reflect on their strengths and areas for improvement, and turn setbacks into opportunities for growth, as measured by all students participating in a minimum of four (4) project-based learning activities per year, with at least two (2) being cross-curricular.
Develop strong and supportive adult relationships:	All students will demonstrate annual growth in terms of strengthening and broadening adult, non-familial, and supportive relationships, as measured by a

	student survey linked to an action plan. Students will show improvement on social-emotional learning, as demonstrated by an annual assessment. All underclassmen (freshmen and sophomores) will participate in mentoring experiences at least twice per semester, and all upperclassmen (juniors and seniors) will participate in internships that will culminate in 120 hours by the conclusion of their senior year, as measured by an internal tracking system.
